

We are here in the unconcealed objection and therefore in opposition to all efforts made by the European governments and their policies which aim at keeping refugees from entering the EU with the aid of militaristic protection of the borders and preached separation. We are here in opposition to a policy that creates the catastrophic circumstances which we can find here at the borders.

As a part of the society that is criticizing the policies of the European government, we define our resistance by supporting you and commitment toward your wills. We are aware that by being from Europe, we are part of a global exploitation; a structure which is primarily creating reasons to flee.

We are not here because we get paid by some charity organization to cook for people fleeing. We are here because it is important for us to show solidarity with people revolting borders on their ways searching for better lives.

The grading of humans according to their origin, faith, gender and other categories has to end, here and everywhere.

We wish for you to have a lot of strength on your journey and for all of us, a world based on solidarity and freedom.
